

UT Gardens Education Program Summer Internship 2021*

The UT Gardens Education Program is looking for an excited, qualified intern to assist with our programming during the summer. Interning at the UT Gardens will give you excellent hands-on experience in environmental education. We are looking for someone who is interested in gardening, plants, or the outdoors, and working with children of all ages.

This intern will work with children regularly and must go through our training program and pass their background check. We have some flexibility in hours available (will most often be less than 40 hours a week), but it should be noted that the intern will work Monday through Friday during regular working hours and possibly on the weekends. Our internship is unpaid, but we are happy to sign off on internship hours earned for a course or degree requirement. You must submit a resume and a cover letter explaining why you believe you would be a good fit for this internship. Please contact Whitney Welch at wwelch@tennessee.edu if you are interested in the position.

Duties include but are not limited to the following:

- Planning, implementing, and facilitating children's and adult programs/workshops
- Assisting with the UT Gardens Summer Camp Program
- Working with UT Gardens staff and volunteers to accomplish garden tasks
- Researching relevant information for garden programs

Working hours:

- Must be available during the regular working day, though we can potentially work around a class schedule or other work schedule

*Note: If you are available in the Spring Semester for the same type of duties, please contact Whitney Welch (wwelch@tennessee.edu) for more information.
